By The Editor

Dear Andrew: you will find your letter on the editorial page.

Dear Mike: I think you will do very well up here in Grenada if you decide to run for governor. I am not as much of a Jonah as I used to be, for both my men—Eastland and Abernethy—are sitting pretty in Washington.

Grenada certainly regrets to lose, temporarily, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher O'Leary and the latter's mother, Mrs. M. L. Wilson. "Fish," long time assistant manager of the Grenada Theatre, left this morning for the Canal Zone, while the ladies are moving to Montgomery, Alabama.

Bert Bays has taken Fish's place at Grenada Theatre, while Bert Horn is taking charge of the Pix.

T. J. Lowry who won last time without an "e" in his name, says that his employees MUST not meddle in other races. Having heard little against him, one is bound to think that he has made a pretty fair to middling Highway Commissioner.

Remember, candidates, our rates for announcements are as follows: Sheriff and Chancery Clerk, $15.00; other county officers, $10.00; super and beat officers, $5.00. Cash money. I can figure out something good to say about any of you, even if I just say you have a good wife or a good appetite.

Subscriber and Airman Thos. D. McLeod, of the Jackson (Miss.) AAB, spent the week-end with home folks.

Ensign W. V. Dubard and Pvt Edgar Turnipseed, both new subscribers, afford us an opportunity to kill two birds with one stone.

Another copy has been added to the Fort Wayne, Indiana bundle. Mrs. Nelson Clippinger is welcomed.

The grand jury, with Brother McCulla as Foreman, adjourned Wednesday. They heard a lotta lies, no doubt.

Pvt. Joe Ward sent in some poetry from California, and we will get to it sometime soon. I did not know that Clinton was a poet.

Mr. Ray and Mr. Huffman are having to do some work while Hazel and Tommy are sick.

FOR SALE: 40 acres of timber land 2 miles west of Oxford. Land will be there forever, while the value of money may become 0000 before this thing is over. $20.00 per acre, cash money.

If you want more than 40 acres, you could get that, too, at $20.00 per acre.

The draft board has started on the 18-20s. Not many of them are left, for most of them have already volunteered.

Please look at the expiration date on your own paper and if you are behind, come in, like Sam Norris, of Holcomb did, and pay up.

Odom and his policemen made it hard recently on some of the licker merchants. The City materially benefited from the fines aggregating about $700.00 imposed by "Jedge" Carothers.

Considering the vast number of strangers and the increasing number of soldiers in this area, there has been a remarkable degree of peace and serenity in the community. The MPs and the civilian authorities keep matters well in hand.

This nation needs a GOOD army and just as BIG as can be properly supplied by the home front.

George Morris wrote a fine piece about my man Jim Eastland recently. Jim is going to go to town, watch his smoke.

We are hopelessly behind in mentioning our new subscribers and renewers. Since January 16, we have added 20 new subscribers.

I thought the GOW had EVERY Jack on earth, but another one, G. W. Jacks, of Baton Rouge, knocked and was admitted recently. I believe that is the last Jack in the deck.

Aint they sweet.

Newspapers, receiving less revenue and costing more money to produce, face two alternatives, viz: keeping rates the same as in normal times and REDUCING standards; or, raising rates, and MAINTAINING standards. We unhesitatingly chose the latter.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYE

By Mrs. W. W. Whitaker

Did you know that it was in the reading room of the Detroit Public Library in a British periodical, that a young blacksmith, named Henry Ford found the idea from which he developed his motor car. That idea made a great industry for Detroit—to say nothing of its effect on the whole social structure of the world.

The Army and Navy are calling to you to give a book, a good book, during the Victory Book Drive this and next month. If you haven't answered this call by giving a book, do so today. If you need advice about the kind of book to give, consult the librarian at Grenada Public Library, and if you wish it, she can also order a book for you.

BOOKS-BOOKS
Grenada County committee for Book Drive has set aside the week of February 8 to 13th. Have you given that book you've intended giving to the men in the army and the navy? If you haven't done so, there's still time. Give a good book to the soldiers and sailors. These men have a few leisure hours in which to read and they are looking to you to provide interesting books and magazines for their use. Give books to Miss Elizabeth Jones at the Grenada County Library, located in the south wing of the Community House.

Remember! You were urged to find that discarded War Stamp book and begin putting stamps in it again and again.

WE NEED A BUILDING PROGRAM

The housing situation in Grenada becomes more and more acute. Every day dozens of bewildered people go from one citizen to another, to offices, to city officials, to ministers and rental agents, seeking a place to live.

There are some houses in Grenada with vacant rooms. We know that to be a fact. They are vacant because the owners cannot get permission from the government to recondition the houses for the new owner, also the owner of the home can live under the same roof in comfort and same degree of privacy. The average home owner hesitates to let strangers share their kitchen, their ice box, their bath room and their bed rooms until more convenient adjustments are made. Many would consider renting their rooms if they are allowed by Washington to install a new bath room and put in a sink in the extra "small" room, easily turned into a kitchen.

Greenadians have opened their homes to these estimable people who have come here to be near their soldiers at Camp McCain and the Army Air Base, yet there are homes here in need of repair and re-arranging, and these homes should be allowed necessary materials, and in some cases, financial aid. The housing situation is critical here now and its time our local officials contact the Washington, D. C. and Jackson, Miss., officials and "get" a release so that homes may be repaired thereby able to accommodate extra people.

Division Official Praises "All Out For Victory" Edition

Camp McCain, January 18, 1943
W. W. Whitaker,
Grenada County Weekly,
Grenada, Mississippi.

My Dear Mr. Whitaker:
A short time ago I received a copy of the "All Out For Victory" edition of your newspaper "The Grenada County Weekly," dated January 7, 1943.

Its publication is a fine piece of work, and you and your staff are to be congratulated upon this noteworthy accomplishment which is another blue ribbon for your paper and establishes another landmark in the progressive history of this county.

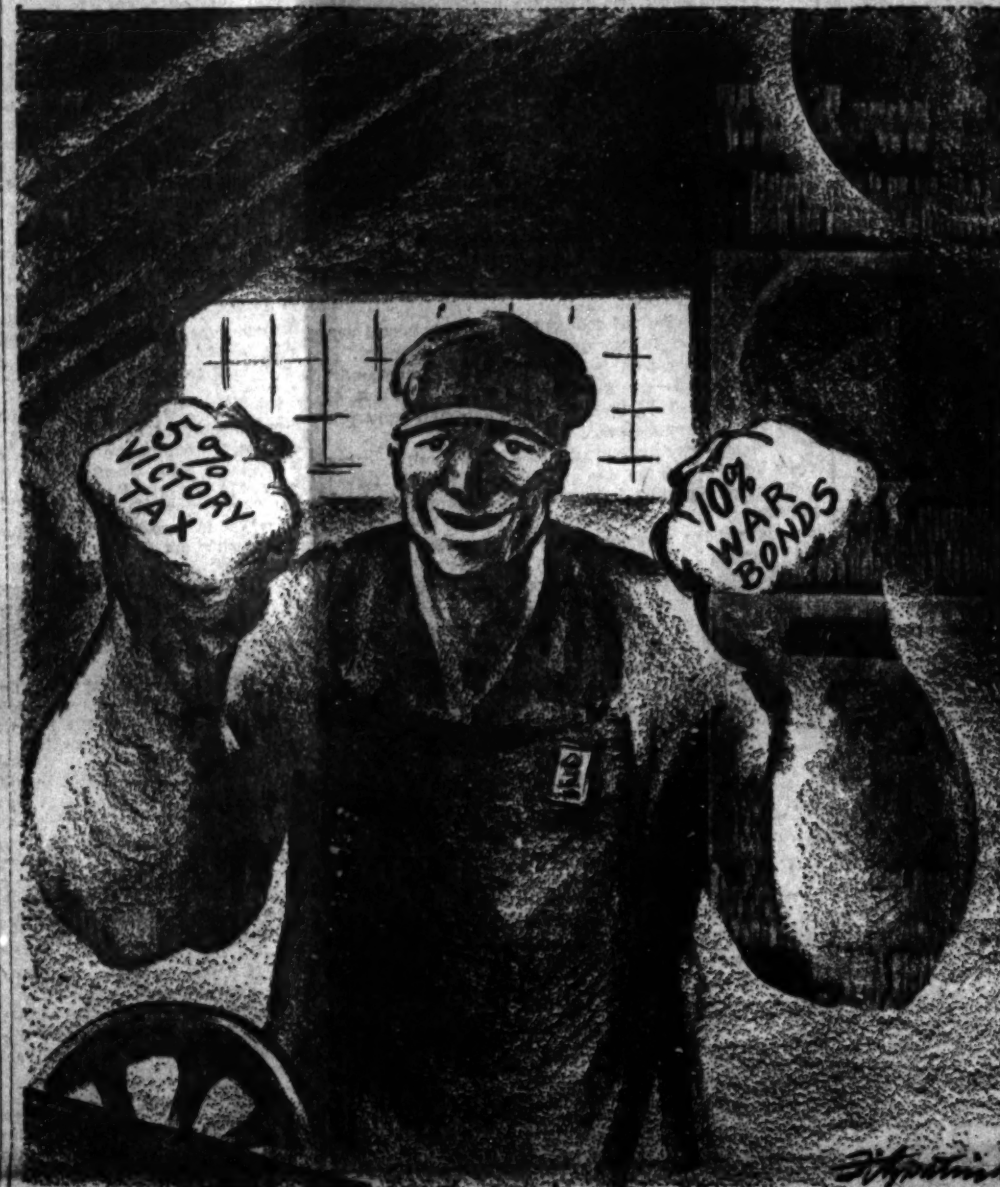

This edition is more than just printed matter, it is a direct reflection of the patriotic and unselfish attitude of the citizens of Grenada, and vividly illustrates the enthusiastic manner in which our "neighbors" have accepted the entire personnel of this Division as part of their expanding Community.

This special issue will be treasured, and in the years to come its collection of photographs and written material will increase in value and become a distinct and never-ending source of pleasure to all of us who serve our country as members of the 87th Infantry Division.

Respectfully yours,
PERRY E. CONANT,
Major, GSC,
AC of S. G-2.

Postmaster Avon McElwraith, of Camp McCain has a smooth working organization. They would like to have some good looking women working there to break the dreariness and monotony of the place, however.

John Tharpe, 72, Died At His Home Near Gore Springs

Mr. John Tharpe died at his home in the Gore Springs community Thursday night, January 21, 1943. He was born in Yalobusha county February 10, 1870 and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tharpe.

During his youthful years he attended the neighborhood schools that the community afforded, and, when 30 years of age united with the Baptist Church. In 1904 he and the wife who survives him were married.

For many years they have lived in the Gore Springs community in Beat Two of Grenada county and have reared a fine family. They have always been good neighbors, good parents and good Christians.

Burial was had at Gore Springs on January 22, with Rev. Roscoe Hicks conducting the funeral services. David Hall, Paxton Hall, Shaw Williams, Alton Martin, Roy Chamberlain, Carl Leverette served as pallbearers. J. L. Tharpe, Earl Tharpe, Reginald Tharpe Elston Tharpe, Mrs. Mary Frances Cohen, and his widow, Mrs. John Tharpe, survive him. A sister, Miss Vida Tharpe, also survives. To them we extend sympathy.

Decrease of 35 Percent In Fatalities In 1942

Figures released by the Bureau of Public Relations of Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol indicate an approximate decrease of 35 percent in fatalities in 1942 over the year 1941. There was, according to the figures compiled by the Bureau of Accident Prevention, a decrease of 6.2 percent in fatalities caused by collisions of two or more motor vehicles; then, next in order, a decrease of approximately 2 percent in pedestrian deaths. There was an increase in non-collision accidents—running off roadways, turning over, etc.—of approximately 4 percent. Non-collision accidents lead in frequency with collision between two or more motor vehicles second and pedestrian accidents third.

Grenada Navigator Takes Part In Drive Against Japs

Taking part recently in the greatest all-out air offensive yet launched from the Solomon Islands against Japanese positions to the north was Lieut. William E. McCormick, Grenada, Miss., navigator of a United States bomber.

Corporal George A. Box, Of Grenada, Killed In Crash

Corporal George A. Box, Army Air Corps, was killed in a crash near Newberry, Indiana on Monday, January 25, 1943, according to word received here from Army authorities.

Cpl. Box is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Box, who live in the Dock old home on the corner of First and Dock streets in Grenada. The family has moved to Grenada in recent months, and formerly lived in Itta Bena and Greenwood. Young Box, 23 years of age, is a graduate of Greenwood High School, and was flight engineer on the plane which carried him to his death. He is a member of the Christian Church.

While funeral arrangements depend upon circumstances beyond the control of the family, it is known that his body will be buried in Itta Bena and that services will be conducted by Rev. O. R. McGugin.

Surviving him are his parents, a brother, John Box and a sister, Rosemary Box, both in school in Grenada, and four other brothers, Jake Box, of Pascagoula, Joe Box, of Greenwood, Private Haven Box of the Amphibian Command, and Private James Box in the army in California.

This death continues taking toll of Grenada's youth.

Circuit Court Likely To Adjourn Friday

The winter term of Circuit Court, with Judge John F. Allen on the bench, and J. P. Coleman looking after the interest of the State, opened its session promptly at eight o'clock Monday morning. After the trial of one case transferred here from Webster county, all cases were dismissed Monday afternoon to return Wednesday.

This comparatively light session of court is likely to end on Friday.

Lowry, A Definite Candidate For Reelection

I am definitely a candidate for reelection and will make my formal announcement at a later date. I am primarily interested in the reelection of T. J. Lowry for Highway Commissioner and will not permit the State Highway organization in the Northern District to take any stock whatever in the election or defeat of any candidate for any other office provided they let me alone.

T. J. LOWRY

John W. Hayden Died In Hospital Friday Night

Mr. John W. Hayden, of Holcomb, passed away in Grenada Hospital Friday night, January 22, 1943 after a period of ill health running into years.

He was born in Grenada county on September 20, 1869, and has lived in the vicinity of what is now Holcomb practically all of his life. Since 1921, he has been a member of the Baptist church, of Holcomb. On March 3, 1918 he and Miss Lillie Belle Keasler, of Holcomb, were married. Until the disastrous fire which almost ruined the town of Holcomb, Mr. Hayden was a merchant there and formerly in the village of Parsons.

The writer has known John Hayden all of his (the writer's) life, and he never was a more honest, conscientious man, one who gave 36 inches to the yard, 16 ounces to the pound and four mites to the gallon. His word was considered as good as his bond. What more can be said? Mr. Hayden once served as Mayor of Holcomb.

Funeral services were held at Sparrow Saturday afternoon. Dr. A. S. Hill, A. L. Jackson, G. O. Sanford, H. S. Norris, Paul Hayden and M. S. Hill served as pallbearers.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Lillie Keasler Hayden, one son, Jack William Hayden, and another son, Frank A. Hayden; and two sisters, Mrs. Hulda Clark, of Holcomb, and Mrs. Willie Huffman, of Memphis.

To the bereaved ones, the Grenada County Weekly expresses its sympathy.

Grenada Blanketed With Ice And Snow Tuesday

Grenada awoke Tuesday morning to find itself blanketed with ice and a small amount of snow. Limbs of trees overburdened with accumulated ice broke off with resultant havoc to power and telephone lines. Only a small amount of snow fell, perhaps an inch.

The street department was kept busy clearing away the debris caused by broken tree limbs, while telephone and power repairmen had tough assignments attempting to restore these vital services.

The cold continued until about Wednesday noon when the sun removed all but a small amount of ice and snow.

According to reports the trailer camp in the grove on 51 South was hit pretty hard, as it is located in the midst of a grove.

MEN OF THE Infantry Division 87

The rumbling, raucous roar of the artillery with its huge, death dealing projectiles totals up to signify fire power—and plenty of it!
The mission of the artillery is to support troops; to blast into smithereens and obstacles which seek to delay the steady forward movement of troops; to batter into submission, or destroy fortifications, enemy concentrations, bridges, and crossroads, and to lay an effective barrage in order to screen and protect advancing troops.

Commander of the 87th Division Artillery is Brigadier General Russell G. Barkalow, a man well chosen for the position and responsibility attached to the commander of the strong arm of the Infantry.

General Barkalow is a perfect example of the statement that "the American Army offers unlimited opportunities to those who possess the necessary energy and capacity to succeed." A Battalion supply sergeant in 1910, he applied himself with characteristic zeal and ability to rise to the high rank of Brigadier General and Commander of the 87th Infantry Division Artillery.

Born in Ohio, General Barkalow, received his first commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in 1917. His rapid promotions were the direct result of his extensive knowledge in the organizing and employment of artillery units.

General Barkalow graduated from Officers Course, Field Artillery School and Command and General Staff School. He also served in the General Staff Corps.

Aiding the General is Colonel Richard M. Bacon, energetic and brilliant Executive Officer of the Division Artillery.

At the present General Barkalow and Colonel Bacon are busily engaged in supervising the training of their unit. Among the objectives to be attained during this period are:

1. The physical conditioning of every officer and man, and a grasp of the technique of hand to hand fighting. The artilleryman must be self-reliant and capable of skillfully using small arms, for often the enemy may be too close to use the big guns.
2. The delivery of accurate and deadly fire whenever, and wherever needed.
3. The use of communication instruments. Not only operating but also installing and maintaining of telephonic and radio sets.
4. The ability to move quickly and quietly on a second's notice.
5. The proper and vital support of the Infantry.

M. H. James Gets Army Discharge, Over 38 Limit

M. H. James of Wayside, member of the Washington County board of supervisors from the second district, was in Greenville today following his discharge from the U. S. Army at Camp Shelby, Friday.

Mr. James was given his discharge from the armed forces because he is over 35 years old. He will return to his duties as representative of the second district on the county's governing board as soon as President Huddleston signs his bond.

W. D. Simmons, of Pettit, has been serving as member of the board of supervisors in place of Mr. James while the latter was in military service. Mr. Simmons was appointed by Gov. Paul S. Newman.

Coleman, Definitely A Candidate

Hon. J. P. Coleman, District Attorney, stated to us that he is a definite candidate for reelection, and that he will make a formal announcement later.

MISS MARY McEACHERN IS SERGEANT'S BRIDE

A wedding of interest here where the bride enjoys such genuine popularity occurred Saturday, January 23, 1943, at nine o'clock in the evening, when Miss Mary McEachern became the wife of Sergeant Joseph T. Haddakin, Jr., now stationed at Camp McCain, Miss.

Vows were pledged at the Presbyterian Manse, the Rev. C. A. Pharr, officiating. Friends present included Mrs. Pharr, Mrs. Johnnie Wylie, Mr. M. L. Wiese, Miss Jewel Davis, and Mr. Jimmie McMahan.

For her wedding the bride wore a charmingly fashioned blue wool suit with navy accessories. She is the daughter of Mrs. Don McEachern and the late Mr. McEachern of Valden. She is a graduate of Valden High School and a graduate of Grenada General Hospital Training School for Nurses. Since her graduation she has become a R. N. and has performed nursing duties at Grenada Hospital and at Indianola Hospital, Indianola, Miss. At present she is doing defense work on the Grenada Air Base Construction Project and will continue her duties there so long as her husband is stationed at Camp McCain.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Haddakin of Albany, N. Y. He is a graduate of the Abraham Lincoln High School of Albany and before enlisting in the army twenty-two months ago, he was employed in the office of the American Express Co. at Albany.

The young couple will be at home in Grenada at 306 Line Street.

MILITARY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED AT CATHOLIC CHAPEL AT CAMP MCCAIN

The wedding of Miss Eleanor McGuinness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGuinness, of Oakwood Heights, Staten Island, N. Y., and Lieutenant Vincent R. Judge, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Judge, of Grant City, Staten Island, N. Y., was solemnized Wednesday evening, January 27, 1943, at seven o'clock mass, Father Callens, Chaplain of 345th Catholic Chapel, Camp McCain, officiating. The vows were said at the Army Chapel in the presence of a small group of friends. White tapers in tall candelabra cast a soft glow over the nuptial scene and white carnations filled the altar vases.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Mary McCain and Lt. Judge had Lt. George Kennedy, of Camp McCain as his best man.

The bride was attired in a beige street dress with which she wore brown gloves and slippers. Her becoming hat was of pink felt and an exquisite lavender orchid with ferns formed her corsage. For travel, her costume was supplemented by a handsome fur coat. Colonel Leach, of Camp McCain, gave the bride in marriage.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the 51 Club for the bridal party and friends. Immediately after the reception, the young couple left for Memphis for a brief honeymoon at Hotel Peabody. They will return to Grenada on Sunday to make their home here.

TWO WEDDINGS

Rev. E. R. Henderson, pastor of the Central Baptist Church officiated at the marriages of two young couples recently:

WINDHAM-HOOD

On January 25, 1943, Miss Sarah Bernice Hood, of Carrollton, Miss., became the bride of Pvt. Lloyd David Windham, of Camp McCain, Miss. The ceremony was performed at the pastor's study in the Central Baptist Church, Rev. E. R. Henderson officiating.

OWTN-HALLE

On January 17, 1943, Miss Frances Halle, of Grenada, became the wife of Pvt. David Owens, of Kansas, now located at Camp McCain, Miss. The wedding took place in the study of the officiating minister, Rev. E. R. Henderson, in Grenada.

ALL SAINTS EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY

Mrs. William Ames was hostess Monday afternoon at three-thirty to eleven members of the Episcopal Auxiliary. Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, president, presided. Mrs. Sax Weir led the devotional. Mrs. W. J. Sherwood, secretary, gave the minutes of preceding meeting.

A business session followed and the Auxiliary voted to assist in decorating one of the Army "Day Rooms" at Camp McCain. Members will please call Mrs. A. W. George or Mrs. Whitaker of their cooperation in regard to this social service. Curtains for 17 windows are to be made, and gifts of used furniture are solicited for this "Day Room." Miss Robbie Donk gave an interesting account of the recent meeting of Council of Church Women at Jackson.

Miss Eleanor Holland, of Wolf Creek Ordnance plant, at Milan, Tenn., has been visiting homefolks recently.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Pace, of Vicksburg, spent the week-end with homefolks, Mrs. F. M. Pace and Bea Sykes having come home with Miss Ruth Hunter.

Maurice Donald Ross, of California, has been the guest of his mother, Mrs. D. G. Ross and family the past week.

GRENADA GARDEN CLUB

The Grenada Garden Club met Thursday, January 21 at 3:30 in the home of Mrs. Jay Gore. Nineteen members were present Mrs. Paul Carter was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. T. B. Ravell, Chairman of the program committee, assisted by Mrs. Giles Patty, presented the year books for 1943. The attractive covers of red, white and blue made one known at a glance that the Garden Club would put patriotism first for 1943. The aim for the coming year is, "Put idle ground to work." Five of the year's twelve meetings will be held in the Red Cross work room to accomplish whatever is needed.

Mrs. G. D. Thomason, president, presided over the business session. Plans for using every available space for gardens were discussed.

The members voted unanimously to observe book week February 8th to 13th by giving books to the library for the soldiers.

Mrs. Ravell introduced Mrs. Lewis, the Red Cross secretary for Grenada county. She spoke on the Red Cross work. Mrs. Lewis stated that at the present time, the making of service kits is the most urgent need.

The hostess served delicious sandwiches and tea.

The meeting adjourned to meet the following month in the home of Mrs. Giles Patty. At that time Mrs. Allan Neely will speak on "Spring Victory Gardens."—Contributed.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The hospitable home of Mrs. J. C. Prose on College Street was the scene on Tuesday afternoon at three thirty of a very interesting meeting of the Twentieth Century Club.

Miss Estelle Turner was co-hostess on this occasion.

Mrs. J. B. Perry, president opened the meeting and called for the minutes of the last meeting, then led an informal discussion of current club business. Sale of War Bonds by the club members and other club activities being the topics.

Mrs. Gertrude Marders, one of the members on the program was unable to attend this meeting because of the inclement weather. Mrs. Fred Lickfold, Jr. gave a splendid paper based on one of the most interesting "ladies of the footlights", Fanny Kemble, who was famous at the time when many of the foremost people of the century looked askance at actresses or women with entertainment ability.

The two hostesses served a beautiful plate with sandwiches, olives, date loaf with cream and hot tea and lemon.

Two non-member guests, Mesdames Max McCormack and Jesse Perry were welcomed at this meeting.

RADIO PROGRAM

A radio program, "The Family in War," sponsored by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, is to "go on the air" every Saturday over the NBC network from 1:45 to 2:00 OWT beginning January 23rd.

The new series will continue the story of Marge and Bill Baxter and their plans and problems as parents of an average American family in wartime.

Each dramatic episode in the lives of the Baxters will be summarized by a single interpreter, the "Voice of the PTA."

Mrs. C. C. Clark, Gulfport, State President, advises local parent-teacher leaders to lose no time in organizing listening groups.

The topics for the first four broadcasts, running consecutively beginning January 23rd, are: "War Marriages"; "Don't Repeat That Ruin"; "On the Farm Front"; and "Can Our Children Face It?"

A similar program sponsored by the National Congress last year "On The Home Front" was considered highly successful. This year the problems of family living in wartime are more numerous as well as more acute and "The Family in War" series should reach an even higher level of helpfulness.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

On Tuesday afternoon, the Tuesday Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. R. H. Horton for an afternoon of interesting games. Three tables were arranged for the guests and in the late afternoon the hostess served a beautiful plate containing a molded salad on lettuce, hot cheese sandwiches, olives and tea.

Four non-member guests were invited to share this lovely affair, and were Mesdames E. R. Prouditt, Robert Hall, Nan McCormack and J. I. Cooley, Jr.

Rev. and Mrs. Claud Parks and son, Claude, Jr., were visitors in Grenada Sunday. Rev. Parks is District Superintendent with headquarters at Bardia. He filled the pulpit at Grenada Methodist Church at the 11 o'clock service Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Robinson and Rev. and Mrs. Parks were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred White, and Claud, Jr. was guest of Frank York, Jr. Additional news in the Parks family concerns Claud, Jr., who graduated in Civil Engineering at Miss State Saturday night. The family returned to Bardia Sunday afternoon.

William Dubard, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Dubard, of Dubard, is now stationed at Scott Field, Ill. as a radio operator for planes.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mullin and baby, of Birmingham, are visiting their mother, Mrs. R. W. Mullin and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hweycutt.

Mrs. Bennett, of Carrollton, visited her sister, Mrs. W. T. Rose and family early this week.

Miss Lillian York, of M. S. C. W., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank York the past week-end, returning to school on Tuesday of this week.

Miss Mary Lou Cullen and room mate, Miss Joyce Williams, both of M. S. C. W. visited Miss Cullen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Cullen the past week-end. This is mid-term examination recess at school.

Frank York, Jr., who is a member of the Senior Class at Miss State visited his parents the past week-end.

Mrs. Allie Gerard had as her guests recently, her son, Mr. William Gerard and family, of Winona.

Mrs. A. W. George is visiting her sister, Mrs. Norma Caldwell, in Jackson.

When the shocking news of the sudden death of Mr. Donald McLeod, formerly of Grenada, and recently of Jackson, Tenn., was received by his sister, Mrs. Roy Burt, of Winona, on Friday last, it so happened that Mrs. Burt's close friend, Mrs. Sam Hall Garner, of Grenada, was a guest in the home. Mrs. Burt and Mrs. Garner left at once for Memphis to join Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burt and Mrs. Mollie McLeod for the trip to Jackson.

Captain Max McCormack, of Camp Shelby, and Mrs. McCormack, R. N. of the Base Hospital, New Orleans, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Keeton this week. They arrived Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Crawford, who have resided in Moorhead, Miss., the past several years have returned to Grenada to reside. They will make their home with their mother, Mrs. Hal Culbourn on College Street.

Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Caruthers, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Donk, Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Liles and Mr. Ben Adams, Sr., were among the Episcopals to attend the 115th Annual Council at Jackson last week.

Mrs. J. A. Shields, of Morton visited the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Liles and family last week, and cared for her two young grandchildren, Dorothy and Stewart Liles in their parents' absence from home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tardiff have left for Kingston, Tenn., where Mr. Tardiff will work on Chas. T. Main project.

Mr. and Mrs. Sax Weir went to Jackson, Miss., recently to see their son, Sax, Jr., who is now in training at Chaple Hill, S. C.

Francis Hill, student at Ole Miss came home on Thursday afternoon to recuperate following a stay at the University Hospital, caused by either the flu or a bad cold. He spent the week-end at home with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hill.

Miss Helen Horton, student at Belhaven College, was at home the past week-end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Horton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neely, Jr., and little daughter, of Birmingham, will return to Grenada to reside on February 1st.

Little Miss Peggy Joyce Bryant, of Fulton, Ky., is spending this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bryant.

Sgt. F. B. Carrington, of Camp Forrest, Tenn., spent last week-end in the home of Miss Bebe Bryant.

Ralph Litten, U. S. A. spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Litten and family.

Miss Marguerite Myers, of Byhalia and Memphis, visited Mrs. Giles Patty last week-end.

Mrs. George McMurry, nee Grace Cowles Horton, who has visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cowles Horton the past month, has joined her husband at Miami, Fla., where he is in training.

Mrs. L. E. Ryder, wife of Colonel Ryder, of Camp McCain, left for New York on Thursday afternoon just in response to a message which stated that her mother was ill and desired her presence at her bedside.

GORE SPRINGS NEWS

Little Bobby Gene Gillon's many friends will be delighted to know he is back at home after a week's stay in the Grenada Hospital.

Miss Agness Halle, of East St. Louis, is the charming guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Halle and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. DMcKnight and two sons, Wayne and Sharon Canton, spent Sunday with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Annie Tharpe.

Mr. J. W. Sultan, of Florida, is spending a few days with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sultan.

Mrs. J. W. McCormack and Mrs. J. S. Halle spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Halle.

Miss Vida Tharpe is spending this week in Calhoun City as the guest of Mrs. Alice Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillie, of Schlater, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Trussell Thursday morning.

Miss Bettie Lison was the guest of Miss Mary Ellen Halle Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Schutte, of Alabama, spent a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tharpe spent Sunday in Big Creek in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parker.

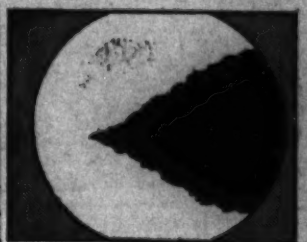

Aint they sweet.

Help keep Horn and Greenfield out of devilment this week-end, please.

Windows On New Worlds

Hair-splitting is no longer a joke with the new electron microscope, which makes visible a whole world that has previously been too small for scientists to study.

1. Using particles of electricity instead of light, the instrument makes a mosquito's stinger, 1/1000 the diameter of a hair, look like this.

2. Crystals, dust particles, disease-producing viruses can be enlarged to a million times to examine their nature and structure.

3. Portable, operating from ordinary power lines, it is expected to speed war research in laboratories of colleges and war plants.

4. After the war, it may be useful in many fields—for example, in searching for the cause of such diseases as the common cold.

Wake Up, U. S. O.

Having served in the last war, and having seen a little but here financed by the Y. M. C. A., another but financed by the Salvation Army, another one financed by the Knights of Columbus, another by the Jewish Welfare League, I welcomed the theory of the U. S. O., which, as it's name implied was a united service organization combining into one welfare organization all of the disconnected organizations of the last war.

But to get down to cases, the national U. S. O. organization has fumbled the ball here in Grenada. For many months there have been one delay, one excuse and one alibi after another about the USO getting adequate quarters for the increasing body of troops stationed nearby. As far as I can observe, and as far as I know, the USO is no nearer having an adequate building in Grenada than it was six months ago, when the first trickle of troops began.

The volunteer ladies of Grenada have done their best with the city-owned community house—wholly inadequate to take care of the recreational needs of the present number of troops, much less the body that will soon be here. Some of the churches have established supplementary rooms for the soldiers; others will establish them. An organization managed by Mrs. Alexander is doing a fine part in the work.

Millions of dollars, some of it here in Grenada, were collected to finance the USO program. Yet nothing beyond sending two secretaries has been done for this area by the national USO.

The trickle of soldiers has become a torrent. Where one soldier is wandering idly about the street THIS Sunday afternoon, ten will soon be wandering about a few Sundays hence.

If there is any high gear in the USO car, it's time to slip into it.

How To Get Elected

I recently received a letter from a friend who is going to run for governor. He stated that, if I wanted to make any suggestions, to speed them in. I answered immediately as follows:

Your letter of yesterday has been received. The old lady and I are enjoying a small degree of relative prosperity as we now owe only about what we are worth.

I take advantage of your invitation to offer advice concerning your platform, as follows:

1. I promise every man in service TWO mules and EIGHTY acres of land, lifetime exemption from poll taxes and all other taxes.

2. Lower the age for securing pensions from 60 to 40.

3. Exempt EVERYONE, who is assessed at less than $1,000.00, from the payment of poll taxes.

4. Promise that the state will cut down on the bull yearlings and young billy goats without cost, and will pay the females of these species, free.

5. In your initial announcement promise "In advance of the promises made by any possible opponent, I promise to do TWICE as much," and when he or they "come out" do that.

6. Promise to double the salaries of ALL school teachers, and at the same time promise to lower taxes.

7. Cut out sales tax by all means. Lower income taxes. Halve ad valorem taxes.

8. Go over to Whitfield and consult its wisest patient and ad whatever promises he would make.

What the hell you want to try to get such a headache as the governorship will give during the next term, I do not know; but, if you are that much of a stutson for punishment, I guess I will vote for you.

Getting Money Under False Pretenses

After receiving a copy of our special edition, from some of his in-laws here in Grenada, Brother James Street, of Long Island, New York, wrote:

I noticed you reported loss of several subscribers because you wrote the truth. I do not know to what you are referring, but editors who write the truth are so damn rare that I'm sending a year's subscription price, just to up the ante. The truth is worth much more.

Brother Street, I feel sure that your in-laws can tell you what I referred to and, perhaps, can identify one of the three that we lost from our mailing list.

However, Brother Street, I feel that I am taking your money under false pretenses. I tell SOME truth, but OMIT a hell of a lot more truth. I do not go out of the way to omit other matter from our columns just to squeeze in a piece of truth about a fellow who is a good job customer, nor do I make a great effort to print the whole truth about a good advertiser. I very often strain myself in writing obituaries. I know a hell of a lot that I do not publish.

It may interest you, too, Brother Street, to know that since I published the truth, we lost three names from our mailing list, but you make the EIGHTY-EIGHT subscriber we have gained.

If, with this candid statement before you, you want your money back, just drop us a line for I always refund for the unexpired period that a subscriber has—as I did the three whom we lost.

Apathetic Citizens

Up to the first of the present week, only a little more than half of the people who has paid their poll taxes in 1942 had paid in 1943.

From the time you read this, you just have two or three days to pay your poll taxes, otherwise you will not be qualified to vote in the "big" election.

Poll taxes must be paid on or before February 1, which is next Monday.

Four More Newspapers Go Out Of Business

Newspapers are being called upon to a greater extent than any other kind of business for "free services," and this is about the only business that is not paid by the government for "merchandise" services rendered.

In fact, reams of "copy" are sent to the press of the country, written by paid agents, containing information the government wants put in the hands of the people, from Main street to the remotest sections of the country, but it is always stated that it must be published "free"—no funds available for newspaper space.

Not only are the newspapers expected to furnish news print, ink, wrapping paper, services, overhead, etc. free, but they must pay the government in "hard cash" "postage" in getting its own message to its own people.

These same services are also rendered to community, city, county and state without limitation.

This unusually heavy load, plus increase in all expenses, has brought the number of newspaper failures since the war began to 400. This is a heavy mortality—perhaps the heaviest in the history of the country.

According to Editor and Publisher, leading journal of the printing and publishing profession, four more daily newspapers folded up the past week.—Star-Herald.

The reason for the folding-up is a fundamental one. They are taking in less than they have to pay out.

Half of our mail consists of "free" propaganda, principally from the federal government, yet out of the 100 billions-budget not a copper cent was appropriated for the newspapers.

Often times, individuals in a community carry their pet schemes to the publisher-printer for FREE publication, but take all of their job printing to the printer.

Advertising revenue is seriously reduced for very good reasons.

Newspapers face two alternatives: increase their advertising rates and subscription rates, or reduce their standards, or go busted; and, maintain normal rates, and reduce standards.

The GOW has chosen the former alternative, that of increasing subscription rates and advertising rates and MAINTAINING normal standards. We have not lost a subscriber or an advertiser, for other people, knowing THEIR OWN problems, can appreciate the similar problems of the newspaper.

The GOW is not kicking. It is getting on fairly well.

A Real Country Editor

Through our bayshore neighbor, George Lickfold, now of Dallas, we develop a sort of proxy acquaintance with W. W. Whitaker, colorful publisher of the Grenada County Weekly, and his sprightly paper.

Mr. Whitaker has just issued a 32-page "All Out For Victory" edition, for which he claims two distinctions: (1) That it is the largest issue ever published by a Grenada county newspaper, and (2) that it contains the only rotogravure section ever issued by a Mississippi newspaper.

It is unique in other ways. For instance, on the front page of each of the four sections of the Victory edition is a different "Seen, Heard and Told" column by the editor, with his philosophical phis. In these columns and in the editorials are some of the salty cracks that have caused Mr. Whitaker's stuff to be reprinted far and wide.

In a statement of "Our Policy" he says: "We propose to throw all propaganda from whatever source into the waste basket. When the time comes that the old lady and I cannot write enough in a week to fill a small country newspaper, we will just check out of the game."

As a World War I veteran, Mr. Whitaker states his "policy" toward the army men who have recently moved into training camp at Grenada:

"The soldier with his sleeve bare of stripes will be received as courteously as the man with a shoulder filled with stars. . . . Many of you like your licker, but that is not a trait peculiar to men in uniform. Most of you following a natural instinct, desire to associate with girls; some of you like to fool around with ladies of the evening. Those desires are not peculiar characteristics of men in uniform. Many of you like to shoot craps and play poker, or black jack, but I did too, and I DO too. . . ."—Houston (Texas) Post.

Saving Rubber

I hate to become a chronic nagger about the little wastes that occur in connection with the local military establishments, but I cannot help but note that, when a bunch of troops arrives in this vicinity, trucks using irreplaceable rubber are sent to the railroad station in Grenada to transport them to camp, when the train could just as easily stop at the camp and unload there.

I am sure that some authority superior to local authority designates this procedure, and, having been a soldier, I know how reluctant inferior authority is to butt into orders from above; but I happen now to be a civilian and can point out the wastes of rubber incident to this unnecessary procedure.

I cannot but note, let it be said here, that the practice of officers using army trucks to bring in to Green Street small bundles of laundry or of cleaning has virtually ceased. This saves rubber.

Another Day Coming

According to recent postal regulations, a new subscriber in service overseas MUST request in writing that the newspaper be sent to him. Regulations no longer permit papa or mama to subscribe for their son, unless, of course, the newspaper can have on record a written request from the serviceman.

This does not affect overseas subscribers already on the mailing list.

It is no longer permissible for papa or mama to wrap up a bundle of papers and mail them to sonny overseas.

If we understand it rightly, only those men already on the mailing list, fully paid up, and those who make written request, can receive newspapers from the continental United States.

The Grenada County Weekly regrets to hear of the death of Mrs. G. E. Denley, of Coffeeville, the wife of the veteran editor of The Coffeeville Courier.

Two Fires At One Time

A Good Providence has prevented the occurrence of two fires at the same time in Grenada—things that could easily happen. Is Grenada forever to depend upon Good Providence to favor it? Is Grenada to continue to lay itself liable to a condition where the ONE engine is fighting a minor fire in the outskirts of town while a major fire starts in the business section? Grenada is tempting Providence.

Dear Andrew:

He ain't gone yet.

Camp McCain News

The News Hound is here again, and has been sniffing around camp to find out some of the news. Most of the items are farewells again. . . . the construction force is really thinning out. Many of the boys who are leaving now are old-timers, citizens of Grenada. . . . they've been here eight months, some of them.

Mr. Tardiff, who did a lot of the work on mechanical installations at camp, left last Saturday. He's to work at Kingsport now, you know. Another departure for Kingsport is the popular Will Lessard. There are a lot of girls very sorry to see him leave.

Mrs. Lou Dee Scott left the Engineer switchboard at camp here to work on the one at the Air Base. She is taking a little vacation, and will begin work at the Base about the first. The last we heard, she was working on the idea of trim little uniforms for the girls out there.

"Mitch" Mitchell, of the blue print department has also gone. He reported to Pascagoula to work in the shipyards there. . . . designing ships.

The O'Sterlings left last week. Captain O'Sterling was ordered suddenly, and unexpectedly (that's the way in the army) to his new station.

One of the departees who will be missed the most is Miss Hazel Newton, of the Jones Construction Co. She was the Project Manager's secretary par excellence. . . . having been passed down from Mr. Peillet to Doc Watson. She left this Monday to be the secretary to the Project Manager on a job in Tampa, Florida.

Also in Tampa working are Mrs. McGee and daughter, Margie. They were formerly working in the payroll section of J. A. Jones. It is quite likely, we think, that Margie will be back here soon.

Miss Grace Shumaker, on the Jones switchboard is leaving this Saturday to work in the telegraph office at the Post. Also leaving this week-end, is Mr. Irby, of the Jones switchboard, who will begin work in the telephone office at the Air Base.

Miss Beadle Ray and Miss Myrtle Kelly are not going to Alaska. They received the papers, but as yet have made no move to fill them out. According to Myrtle, it is cold enough right here in Mississippi.

Mrs. Inez-Moore of the Engineer file section is looking and waiting for a pat on the back for her new hair-do. Virginia McCool has already received one.

All of the people in the community of Grenada will be as interested in the group of girls that are being organized here in Grenada, called the "Military Maids." The purpose of this organization is to promote a well-planned recreation program for the soldiers stationed at camp, and at the Air Base, and also to create in the community a better spirit of co-operation and defense program. This organization is being sponsored by the Works Project Administration, whose center in Grenada is in the Crow's Nest, in the Barwin Hotel. The very able and charming supervisor of the center is Mrs. H. A. Alexander, and her two fine assistants are Miss Mary Elizabeth McNeill and Mrs. Walter Davis.

The group, or unit, of girls, organized along military lines, and on Monday night, the girls gathered to elect their leaders. Miss Grace Robinson was elected Colonel. The Misses Marguerite Finney and Frances Yeager were elected Majors. Miss Lola Belle Horton was chosen First Lieutenant, whose duties in this case are those of secretary-treasurer. Also, the girls were divided into seven companies, with about twenty or more girls to each company. The Captains of the companies are: Co. A—Sammy Merryweather; Co. B, Sarah Martindale; and Co. C, Imogene Ross. These three companies are composed of girls from

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly always the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Overseas Subscribers

In this era of Grenada when almost every business is strained to capacity with calls from its old customers and from soldiers and workmen temporarily here, it would be well for them to keep this in mind: the workmen and the soldiers are here today and gone tomorrow, while the old settlers will not only be here today but will be here tomorrow.

A businessman is terribly shortsighted to neglect his old customers to cater to the temporary customers.

As stated often, the GCW wants to get all of the business it can handle from the temporary residents, but it has, and always will stick to those who have, thru thick and thin, thru good times and bad, stuck to us—in short, our old customers.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Abernethy Assigned To Six Important Committees

Congressman Thomas G. Abernethy has been assigned to six important committees of the House of Representatives, as follows: Civil Service, Claims, Labor, Pension, Public Buildings and Grounds, and World War Veterans' Legislation. It is most exceptional for a member of the House of Representatives, especially a new member, to be assigned to as many as six committees. These committees control much very important and powerful legislation, thus enabling Congressman Abernethy to render an exceptional service.

Several million government employees are vitally affected by the activities of the Civil Service Committee. It has original jurisdiction over all legislation authorizing the extension of classified Civil Service Government employees. The making or rejecting of appointment without term (sometimes referred to as appointment for life), wage scale, retirement benefits, etc. are also considered by this committee. The House of Representatives, by Resolution unanimously adopted on January 21st authorized this committee to investigate all phases connected with the civil employees throughout the Government service in the interest of economy and efficiency to expedite the war effort, to relieve congestion in the National Capitol and to ease up on the tax burden.

The Claims Committee, of which Congressman Dan McGehee of Mississippi is Chairman, considers legislation upon claims against the Government aggregating millions of dollars annually.

The Committee on Labor certainly occupies a strategic and important position in the American Government today and the importance of the Pension Committee is likewise self-evident.

The year 1942 was a peak year in Government housing brought about by a congestion of workers in defense areas. For Government housing alone the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee was assigned legislation involving expenditures of over two billion dollars. It supervises legislation incidental to the construction, maintenance and supervision of governmental buildings and grounds for the War, Navy, Post Office and other government departments.

Veterans of the World War will welcome the news of Congressman Abernethy's assignment to the Veterans' Committee, an assignment offering him an opportunity of rare service. Congressman John E. Rankin, of Tupelo is Chairman of this Committee. Mr. Abernethy says this assignment is most pleasing to him.

It is exceptionally rare that more than one member of a single State Delegation is assigned to the same Committee. Obviously the purpose is to grant an even distribution of power over the nation. It is significant to note that exceptions to this rule were made in the assignment of Mr. Abernethy to the Committee on Claims and Veterans' Legislation, the Chairman of each being Mississippians of long service and wide experience.

In a communication just received Congressman Abernethy states:

"I am indeed proud of my assignments. They offer a wonderful opportunity to render my constituents a valuable service in several extensive fields. Legislation handled by these Committees seriously affects the economic welfare and security of my people in all walks of life.

This Congress has been early identified as the 'Victory Congress,' one that proposes to assert itself in no uncertain terms and stand upon its own feet. And may I proudly add that the conservative Southern Democratic Representatives are in a block blocking the trail for economy and the elimination of Bureaucratic rule.

"I am happy to be here in Washington that I may serve you. My doors are open to everyone. Your inquiries are answered the day received. Call on us."

Happy Sailing For The Littlejohns

To Whom It May Concern: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Littlejohn are both connected with Robinson and Young as we all know. As that company is almost ready to leave Grenada and Camp McCain, we want to say that we have enjoyed having the whole company.

Knowing Mr. and Mrs. Littlejohn personally, I want to say that they are a sweet devoted couple and are loved by everyone that meet them. "Littlejohn" being such a long name they have been called "Mr. and Mrs. Tiny", "Bluejohn", "John", "John Little", etc.

We want to say that no matter where they go from here we enjoyed having them and "Happy Sailing." A Friend.

Rev. C. S. Liles' Aunt Dies

The Rev. C. S. Liles, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, and wife were called to Forest, Miss., on Monday, January 18, because of the death of Rev. Liles' aunt Mrs. G. W. Walton. Funeral services were held at Forest on Tuesday. Rev. Liles had made several visits to his aunt's home the past few weeks because of her serious illness.

In the death of this splendid lady, who was as a mother to Mr. Liles, his own mother having died when he was a small boy, we offer our sympathy to him and the family.

GORE SPRINGS H. D. CLUB MEETS

The Gore Springs Home Demonstration Club met January 14th in the club room. A large number were present and two new members were added. We also had a visitor, Mr. Taylor, the Agriculture teacher, made a talk and organized a class which was to be taught in a ten weeks' course by Mr. Taylor.

Several subjects were discussed by the club. Readings were given by Mrs. S. E. Gillon and Mrs. Shaw Williams. Mrs. Neely discussed the new steam pressure cooker.

After recreation the meeting was dismissed by singing a few songs. Sec. Treas.

From the looks of things you can not fool an old father—several are infatigating around Grenada.

Three Georgians Praised For Naval Service

The Navy Department announced yesterday commendations for 32 officers and men, among them three Georgians, for their outstanding service in convoy protection.

Seaman Second Class Leonard Lovar Outchens, son of Oscar Lee Outchens, of Climax, Ga. was a member of the merchant vessel crew that was cited for "keeping up constant fire against numerous aerial attacks, damaging the enemy bomber and sending another into the sea."

William Clark Rice, formerly of Atlanta, and John William Rhodes, of Dawson, were mentioned in the commendation of an armed guard crew whose prompt action in manning the machineguns during an air attack saved their ship from damage and casualties.—Dawson, (Ga.) paper.

John W. Rhodes, son of Robert Rhodes, formerly of Grenada, once attended school in Grenada.

Mr. Robert Rhodes has four sons in the service.

Letter To The Editor

Brooks Hall Baylor U. Waco, Texas. January 25, 1943. Mr. W. W. Whitaker, Grenada, Miss.

Dear Mr. Whitaker: I have just finished reading an article entitled "Headaches of a Draft Board Chairman" that appeared in the latest issue (January 23, 1943) of the Saturday Evening Post, and I was deeply impressed with its content. I am enclosing the same article hoping that it will be of as much interest and benefit to you as it has been to me.

I have oftentimes wanted to write you letters about the cheap, sarcastic remarks that you have printed in the columns of your newspaper, but I have hitherto refrained from doing so. I am writing this time, though, to make sure that you have an opportunity of reading the enclosed article.

I want it definitely understood that I am writing this letter as a loyal and patriotic citizen of my country as well as of Grenada County, Mississippi and not as a son of the Chairman of the Local Draft Board in Grenada County. I am writing this letter in behalf of those citizens in Grenada and the students in Baylor University who have agreed with me 100 percent on this matter.

You have for the past months been presenting your side of this question, and I hope that you will do me the honor of presenting my side. It is only fair to your subscribers for you to give them both sides of every issue, and you will be doing so by publishing this letter verbatim.

Until I hear from you concerning this letter, I remain,

Your truly, Benton T. Keeton.

WE ARE GRATEFUL

We would that we could express in a more impressive way than words our deep gratitude for assurances of sympathy and love that have come to us from our many friends in our bereavement over the passing of our Soldier Boy. We are grateful to every individual of you, to the several local organizations, the press, the Church Choir, the preachers, and all others. We make special mention of the American Legion for meeting the body of our boy and bringing him home. Every card, telegram, handclasp, floral offering, and personal service helped us greatly to bear our crushing grief. You were most kind and understanding, and we appreciate deeply your continued help in carrying a sorrow that will always be with us. John Rundle Mrs. Bowden Rundle.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank friends, doctors, nurses and pastor, for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our love one, John Hayden. Also for the many flowers. Mrs. J. W. Hayden Jack Hayden Frank Hayden.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking the many friends and neighbors who were so good to our late husband and father, John Tharpe, during his illness and at his death and burial. Special thanks are given Dr. K. for his untiring attention. May God bless all of you. Mrs. John Tharpe and Children.

TWO YEARS AND A HALF OF SUCCESSFUL OPERATION

BILLUPS CROSSING SIGNAL

The Billups Crossing Signal located on the main line of the Illinois Central across State Highway No. 7 north of Grenada, 1 1/2 miles has just completed two and one-half years of perfect operation. Not any kind of adjustment has been made during this time which speaks well for the mechanical construction, especially since several engineers were very sceptical about the durability of the signal. The signal has more than proved that it is perfect from a mechanical point. It has fulfilled the desired purpose—that being a safety warning that has proven superior to any device yet perfected for crossing warnings. No. 8 Highway is a very busy highway especially since the airport has been under construction, thousands of dirt hauling trucks pass under the signal each day going to and from the airport. Counting the cars traveling No. 7 Highway now makes the crossing the most used crossing in the state that the writer knows anything about and to date no accident of any kind has occurred at this crossing, which proves the public really respects the signal. More than twenty trains pass over the crossing each day. The signal has given approximately twenty thousand warning signals to motorists over the period of years. There are a number of people who owe their lives to the signal. This signal is constructed out of steel, but, due to shortage of critical material it is impossible to get steel to build any more of them of steel. However the signal can be built of wood, that would be servicable for twenty years if painted once a year. It is believed that serious consideration should be given to other crossings around Grenada, since there have been a number of accidents on some of these crossings, one of these being at the Elliott crossing now in the camp area, now much traveled due to operation of the camp. Safety clubs and organizations are always advocating caution and a lot of good things. It is wondered why some of them don't get behind this worthy signal and help get some more of them in.

The John Nabers Rundle Memorial

In the passing of Ensign John Rundle this city was overcome with the thought of such a fine and useful life being suddenly brought to a close. It seemed almost a tragedy that a life so promising and so noble should cover a span of only twenty-two years. The hundreds of letters, words, telegrams and floral expressing sympathy to the parents of this worthy son bespeak the esteem in which he was held. Among the many tributes paid to his memory was a memorial which establishes a Book Shelf in the Grenada County Library. John was an inveterate reader. He loved good books and investing in books was his only extravagance. His love for reading led him into the field of journalism, and it was in this field that he chose to labor. The emergency of war led him to serve his country and thus side-track his chosen work for the time being. Had life been spared to him, there was promise that he would have made his mark as a journalist. There was every indication that, through his pen, noble purposes would have been wrought.

There are many young people in Grenada County (as well as older ones) who aspire to higher and better things as did John Rundle. Though his parents were faithful in training him in those things that are high and holy, yet a great part of his training and ideals were acquired through reading. In order to perpetuate those ideals and to provide for those who would care to follow his example, this tribute of respect is paid to his memory.

In the near future the reading public will have access to the John Nabers Rundle Memorial Shelf in the Grenada County Library. To those who enjoy the books on this shelf, it is hoped that through this medium inspiration for better living will come; and that the memory of this faithful soldier (who gave his life to preserve for us the things we hold dear) will inspire each reader to live his best and serve his best.

If there are those who wish further information concerning the Memorial Shelf, it is suggested that you inquire of the Librarian during library hours. Friends who wished to participate in this move, but did not learn of it until after the funeral, are privileged to do so at any time. There are those who have inquired if it was too late to join in with those who set forth this memorial. There is no time limit, no prescribed group of friends, no limit as to any gift—it is merely an expression from those whose hearts are bowed in sorrow because of the passing of a noble life, and it was their desire to express their deep sympathy in something that was lasting. Any one, who so desires, may share in perpetuating John's memory through the medium of good books. John's parents or Miss Elizabeth Jones at the Library may be interviewed as to this shelf of books, since all matters pertaining to it have been entrusted to them.—Contributed.

Household Hints

When cooking mush, occasionally add two teaspoons of coco to the caramel, before stirring it into the boiling milk or water. This makes a fine flavor and a new dish which I have named coco mush.

If there is a sick person in the house, who requires stillness, you can lessen the noise of the doorbell by placing a finger of an old glove over the clapper.

If garden tools are stored in a small box in which a little lime has been placed, they will not rust. The lime will absorb the dampness and keep the tools bright during the winter.

Fix a special hanger for that dress that keeps slipping off a hanger; rubber bands placed tightly around the ends of the hanger will do the trick.

JOHN DOE'S BIG JOB

WE, THE JOHN DOES OF AMERICA, are out to beat the Huns, the Wops and the Japs—to give them such a thorough beating that they will never again endanger our liberties. We propose to see the job through to a victorious end, come what may.

We are proud of the job we are doing; proud of the number of and the speed at which we are producing planes, ships, guns and tanks. We are proud of our American industry, which has surpassed the world in changing from a peacetime to a wartime production. We are proud of the stamina and patriotism of the American farmer.

Yes, we have much to be proud of, much for which we can pat ourselves on the back. We extend full credit to those who have made our accomplishments possible, and we will meet any and all calls they may make until the job is done.

But there are some things we, the John Does of America, do not understand. We do not understand the reason for any confusion or delay in doing what we have rather clumsily accomplished. Some one or more persons were responsible for the disaster at Pearl Harbor. What has been done about that?

Today we are short of food. Men must go to work in munition plants without proper nourishment. When war was threatening, when much of the world was ablaze, why did we continue to restrict food production?

We understood that in event of war, all contingencies had been provided for; that a plan was all prepared, ready for immediate execution, which would assign every individual, every resource, to a designated place. We read the details of that plan in books, and in newspapers and periodicals. It was called the "M" bill and we were told it would be in operation within a day after war started. It sounded like a practical plan—a plan which would prevent loss of time and resources, and prevent arguments as to who was to do things. But what came of it?

Under that plan each of us John Does would have been assigned to a job. No one could have told us we must pay tribute for doing our assigned job. We could not have walked off the job because we objected to the color of the necktie the boss wore. No one could have told us what union we must belong to before being permitted to do our assigned job. Yes, that was a good plan and we regret it was not used. It would have made soldiers of all of us, and that is what we must be, either by direction or by choice, if we are to finish the job we are working at and will complete—the job of beating the Huns, the Wops and the Japs.

"HOME RULE" WORKS IN AMERICA

WE AMERICANS are a home-rule people. The basic principle of our form of government was the town meeting. We got together, talk things over, and do what will meet the needs of the greatest number. Local selective service and rationing boards have worked satisfactorily because they represent the home-rule idea. In the case of tire and gasoline rationing for farmers and for commercial vehicles, bureaucratic Washington attempted to get away from that home-rule to which we Americans are accustomed. The farmer was told he must get his ration card from a bureau clerk in Detroit. It was a theory that did not work. The net result was to reduce the quantity of badly needed foods and all because those who did not know attempted to break away from our home-rule principle. They employed a far-away clerk to do what we can best do for ourselves.

40-HOUR-WEEK

WE CAN GO HUNGRY, if that is needed to win the war, but going hungry to maintain the 40-hour week is something else again. There would be help on the farms if the jobs in the munition plants were not made too easy, as they are. There would not be so much labor shortage, or so much war cost with a 48-hour week, and with a decrease in the nearly three million bureaucratic civilian employees of the government. A fixed price, rather than a cost plus basis of war purchases, would quickly decrease the demand for labor without slowing up production, and it would certainly decrease the demand for labor in the factories, leaving some for the farms, where it is badly needed.

RECENTLY I needed a tube of shaving cream, but neglected to take an empty tube to the store with me. I asked the druggist if he could make an exception in my case. He told me "no"; that the government—his government—had requested that he collect a used tube for each new one sold, and he proposed to recognize that request in all cases. Another druggist in the town did sell me a tube without turning in an old one, but since then my patronage has all gone to the one who refused.

Most Feed Crops Best Put in Silage

Keeping Essential Vitamin A Necessary

Almost any feed crop is worth twice as much an acre when made into silage as it is in the barn or stack.

This is especially true of corn and grain sorghum crops which will not make much grain. It applies equally to sweet sorghums, Johnson grass and sudan.

If corn and grain sorghums can be left standing until the grain is hard, they will make better silage, provided the majority of the leaves still are green. Nevertheless, these feeds should be made into silage even though the leaves are burned or dried up.

But there are some things we, the John Does of America, do not understand. We do not understand the reason for any confusion or delay in doing what we have rather clumsily accomplished. Some one or more persons were responsible for the disaster at Pearl Harbor. What has been done about that?

Today we are short of food. Men must go to work in munition plants without proper nourishment. When war was threatening, when much of the world was ablaze, why did we continue to restrict food production?

We understood that in event of war, all contingencies had been provided for; that a plan was all prepared, ready for immediate execution, which would assign every individual, every resource, to a designated place. We read the details of that plan in books, and in newspapers and periodicals. It was called the "M" bill and we were told it would be in operation within a day after war started. It sounded like a practical plan—a plan which would prevent loss of time and resources, and prevent arguments as to who was to do things. But what came of it?

Under that plan each of us John Does would have been assigned to a job. No one could have told us we must pay tribute for doing our assigned job. When a majority of the leaves of corn, grain and sweet sorghums, and Johnson and sudan grasses are green, it is not necessary to add water if the feed is chopped in one-quarter-inch lengths or less with an ensilage cutter when put in the trench.

If the majority of the leaves are dry, it will be necessary to add enough water to wet the feed about like a heavy dew. Dampened feed even though the majority of the leaves are green.

Any of the grasses and legumes should be dried until their water content is reduced to 35 or 40 per cent before being put into the silo. This means about half dry enough to bale for hay.

When a majority of the leaves of corn, grain and sweet sorghums, and Johnson and sudan grasses are green, it is not necessary to add water if the feed is chopped in one-quarter-inch lengths or less with an ensilage cutter when put in the trench.

Agriculture in Industry

By FLORENCE C. WEED

Mints

An effort is being made to grow in the United States some commodities which are becoming scarce and will soon be unobtainable. Manufacturers and dealers in medicines, spices, and condiments who depend on a steady supply of these botanicals from abroad, are urging that they be produced here in greater quantities.

Sage, the savory herb used in cooking, can be easily and profitably grown here. Our American sage is usually of a better quality than the imported article, and growers are being offered very attractive prices for their crop. It is used widely in the meat packing industry and is also a standard ground spice for the pantry shelf.

Sage is one of the 12 species of the mint family and can be started by cuttings or simply dividing the roots. From this family come many other crops which are commercially marketed. Spearmint is used for mint sauces and for flavoring chewing gum; peppermint yields oil and menthol used in confections, flavorings and medicines. Pennyroyal is used in medicine and the lemon-scented leaves of bergamot are much used in perfumes.

Agricultural Notes

Sunlight and soybeans are suggested by the California college of agriculture to poultrymen searching for substitutes to replace fish oils and meal in poultry rations.

Cannibalism in young chicks is best controlled by keeping the brooder house as cool as practical and by covering the windows with a single thickness of paper to prevent brightly lighted spots within the house.

ELMER TWITCHELL ON THE NEW RATIONING

"Yes and no," said Elmer Twitchell today when asked if he minded the latest ban on canned stuff. "I got pretty sick of it down through the years. In fact, I suppose I have suffered as much from hastily prepared canned bean suppers as anybody. There were many times when I thought the country had stopped delivering food in any other way."

"If Uncle Sam had called for less canned goods years ago I would have cheered till I was blue in the face. After every meal in my house there were tin cans all over the place. Nothing would have disrupted our home more than the loss of a can opener."

"My wife seemed to have forgotten that food came out of the ground. She developed the notion that men could live via the canning corporations alone. She thought food was something dependent on complete halts between the tin mines, the heat-eries and the gas range."

"And I never saw much excuse for it until the past year during which time the old gal has been flying all over the map in something she calls home front activities, letting all her home affairs go to pot."

"Now I claim that among the home front activities conducive to preserving morale and winning the war few take precedence over making the home fairly comfortable and doing a little decent cooking now and then."

"A lot of those women you see trotting around in all sorts of uniforms or with all sorts of bands on their arms are just sabotaging the home front by leaving the men folk hungry, cold, disgusted and pretty sore."

"I know a couple of 'em who are spending 12 hours a day working on the problem of sustenance, morale and first aid while their husbands are so neglected that they could use some ambulatory aid right now."

"The point of which is that thousands of American husbands who don't know much about cooking are obliged to depend on canned stuff. Something they just dig out of a container and hold over a gas flame five minutes. If they find they are suddenly cut off from canned food they are going to be in a bad way."

"Don't you think all men should learn to cook?" we asked Elmer.

"Learn to cook!" he exclaimed. "They should now learn to scout and forage."

RHYMES FOR THE CANNED GOODS CRISIS

Cut me down on canned fruit juices—If it don't do the trick.

Take away those pitted cherries: They will give Adolf "the berries."

Lima beans I'll gladly lay off If in victory they'll pay off.

Peas and beans? Well, I'll go easy—If they make Der Fuehrer sneeze.

Carrots, corn, asparagus? Take 'em and ramp "Hit" and "Muss."

In this rationing of canned goods there is this thing to bear in mind: Maybe the can you give up will be the one they'll tie on Hitler.

GONE WITH THE RATION CARDS

- 1—I'll take a second helping.
- 2—Oh, have another chop!
- 3—I'd like to reduce but I just can't stop eating everything.
- 4—Please pass the butter!
- 5—Add a cup of sugar and a quart of rich cream and stir well.
- 6—You are cordially invited to a beefsteak dinner, tickets to be $1 per plate.
- 7—My order of steak hasn't arrived yet; what's the matter?
- 8—Just cut me off some round steak for the dog.
- 9—And I'll take ten or twelve cans of soup, too.
- 10—The best dinner in town for 40 cents.

WINTER, 1942-43

I pull down shades, I wear my lungs; I've put up new storm doors; I sleep with heavy, woolen socks; Rags cover all my floors.

Each crack is sealed, I've closed off rooms; Such neat tricks I well know; I've even insulated pipes—Do I keep warm? Gosh! No!

—PIER.

Everybody is remarking on the splendid appearance of our service men. When the first draft army was called the boys didn't look any too hot. Even a year ago the equipment seemed somewhat catch-as-catch-can. But there are no smarter looking soldiers on earth today, and the same applies to other branches of the services.

The fellow who has a laugh on others today is the man who stuck to his old coat and never let the oil-burner salesman get a foot inside the door.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

UNTIL the academy awards come through everybody can find food for argument in those voted by the New York film critics. Noel Coward's British navy film, "In Which We Serve," which opened in New York at the end of 1942, was chosen the best picture of the year after stubborn balloting; some of the critics wanted the award for the very stirring "Wake Island." James Cagney was chosen best actor for his work in "Yankee Doodle Dandy"; Agnes Moorhead the best actress for her performance in "The Magnificent Ambersons." Greer Garson and Katharine Hepburn were contenders for that crown for a while, but Miss Moorhead won out.

Jane Randolph is on her way up; she has the feminine lead opposite Tom Conway in "The Falcon Strikes Back," the next of the RKO mystery series based on that detective's exploits, and it's her fourth film since she was discovered last summer in a routine screen test that led to her being given a leading role in "Highways by Night." She'll be a star before you know it.

Rita Hayworth's engagement to Victor Mature seems to be one of those if-and-when things; they'll be married when they are freed by divorce from their present matrimonial commitments, and when the war is over.

Incidentally, Greer Garson's engagement to Richard Kiley seems to be a thing of the past. It didn't seem like the kind of truth that Hollywood executives approve for their biggest stars—he wasn't important enough in the picture business. On the other hand, she seems to be the kind of person who does as she likes—and with "Mrs. Miniver" to her credit she could do it.

Flying Officer Robert Coote, who used to be a Hollywood leading man himself, was released from ECAF recruiting duties to play a Commanded leader in "Commanded Strike at Dawn"—but he kept right on recruiting. The company worked on location near Victoria, B. C., and in his first week with the picture he signed up four Victoria youths for ECAF careers!

Dorothy Lamour, Veronica Lake and Paulette Goddard just scrambled a few old clothes together when they appeared in Paramount's "Star Spangled Rhythm," the big musical which has 70 stars. For their number, "A Sweater, a Sarong and a Peek-a-boo Bang," Paulette wore a sweater and shorts from "Nothing but the Truth." Veronica the low-cut gown that made audiences gasp when they saw "I Wanted Wings," and Dorothy just got into one of her regular sarongs. For other scenes, as they were supposed to be working in the studio in their own pictures, they wore clothes from "The Road to Morocco," "The Lady Has Plans" and "This Gun for Hire."

You might keep an eye on Ann Savage, if you want to see a star in the making. She made her stage debut in a little theater a few months ago, and Columbia signed her to a contract and gave her a few minor roles to get her used to camera angles. Now they think that she's a potential star, and she's been given the role opposite Chester Morris in "After Midnight With Boston Blackie."

Frances Dee, leading lady of RKO's "I Walked With a Zombie," has founded a dramatic club to provide community entertainment at Moorpark, Calif., during gas rationing. A special stage built in a barn on the Dee-McCrea ranch is at the club's disposal.

ODDS AND ENDS—Little Bill, Seawar was allowed to keep the woolly lamb he plays with in "Journey for Margaret"—but his brother gave the lamb a bath, put it into a lighted oven, and then forgot about it... Richard Quine had gone off to war in so many films that it was an old story when he bade farewell to his comrades and joined up with the coast guard... Frances Marie McGuire, who seems to be a comic, is booked to play Ginger Rogers' sister in "Government Girl" at RKO... Ellen Drew, who's usually glamorous, wears old, faded clothing in "Night Plane From Chungking"—but the American pilot falls in love with her just the same!

We, the students of Grenada High School, have just finished the most important milestone in our school career. What we do, think, and accomplish, this last part of the school year, will mean so much more to us in the future than we can ever be made to know now. If we only would put our everything into making our classes really count! Not only does this apply to the seniors but to every pupil of the school.

I feel sure that in every student's life there comes at some time a feeling just to "get by" just kind of "slide through." This is bad enough if it is felt in grade school, but to yield to this temptation in high school is nothing less than hitting oneself in the face. There can also be time for fun, for that is the excuse that most of the offenders give for doing the outside things that must naturally go along with the normal routine of things.

We have been again and again congratulated for the spirit that the school as a whole has shown this year. Let us make that honor be directed to each individual pupil.

How are we to accomplish this goal? There have been several ways tried and some of them have been successful. One is to think of each day's work as a definite part to play in our lives. Another is to study two or three hours at home every night. Still another is to endeavor always to make the best of grades. I believe that the most successful way is a combination of all these different ideas.

First, a student must have a serious attitude toward his school work. Nothing helps more than the realization of the value of school work. Next, he must tackle the hardest job, the one study or studies in which he has little or no interest. There is bound to be such a study in all grades, whether it be Latin or History or Mathematics. It will seem hard at first but it can be done with determined effort. The secret to finding interest in a subject lies in learning as much as possible about it. Soon you will find yourself actually liking it. Then is when the grades will take care of themselves. The more you learn about Math or History or the things you can do with both, the more you will want to know. Then is when the hours of study will not seem a duty, or worse a bore, but will be an interesting work.

This is my prescription for success in high school and in the world. I will guarantee it to work if a determined person gives it a try. And, if, like a patient, you follow this prescription, you will find yourself on the road that leads to success and happiness.

CHAPEL

At the most impressive chapel program of the session, Mr. Rundle read the Shepherd's Psalm and made an earnest plea for all of us to build nobler and better selves.

Mr. Hathorn announced the basketball games scheduled for Friday.

Every G. H. S. teacher and pupil shares Mr. and Mrs. Rundle's grief but pays tribute to their heroic fortitude.

GIRL RESERVES MEET

Last Thursday, January 14, the Girl Reserves held their first meeting since Christmas vacation. The program was an important one, consisting mainly of Girl Reserve songs.

Many of the new members are unacquainted with the old familiar songs which are an essential part of Girl Reserves and this program helped them in learning these songs. The business session was conducted by the president, Marguerite Stanley, and it was decided that 20 volunteer Girl Reserves would canvas the town Saturday in an effort to obtain contributions for the soldiers. The girls were then given questionnaires seeking their favorite kinds of programs. These were filled out and the meeting was closed.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club was called to order by the president, Catherine Herring, and the minutes were read and approved. Then the meeting was turned over to Miss Pierce who discussed a future play and also a dramatization which she wanted the club to give with the Allied Youth. Because of unforeseen interruptions the play which was scheduled for Thursday was postponed to a later date. Members and visitors enjoyed playing games consisting of "Who Am I," "You Have a Face," and "I Have an Idea."

G. H. S. DIRT

Well, exams are over at last and now we can bring our minds or rather what's left of them back to our "dirty work."

See where Mary "Lib" Horton is dating different lieutenants every night of so. The Army bug has bitten her too it seems. Ditto for Beebe Culen, who has even gone so far as to wear one of those "little gold bars."

We extend a hearty welcome to Sue Kemp, the new Junior addition. She has caused a sensation among the males of GHS, and we'll all admit she's a "knockout." Welcome Sue.

The harassed looks on the faces of the bewildered Freshmen during exam week was really pitiful to see. However, most of them came through with flying colors.

Did anyone ever claim the little "ear screws" Miss Hammond was advertising in the Lost and Found Department? They must have been one of those Christmas "hang-overs."

The little blonde, Norma Halstead, who has made a place for herself in GHS seems to have made a hit with Leonard Trussell, too.

Won't someone please tell us something about Terry Mack's hair: interest. He seems to be a man of mystery lately.

Speaking of Terry Mack, is big brother, Montelle, home from overseas, entertained Miss Turner's English IV A class with a lively account of his experiences last Tuesday. We are all glad to see Montelle home and looking so well.

We miss seeing John Henley and Jack Bickerstaff around GHS, but we know the U. S. Marines has gained by our loss.

Word has it that Turnip and his bunch in San Diego are very homesick. Why doesn't every loyal GHS member write these boys? Their address is: Private, Pit. 1256 R. D.-M. C. B., San Diego, California. Henley and Bickerstaff, Pit. 30, R. D.-M. C. B., San Diego, California.

Kathleen Watson's red-headed boy friend "Tip" Pope has gone back to Georgia. Cheer up, Kathleen, letters are almost as good.

Let's help the Girl Reserves all we can in their drive to get coathangers for the soldiers. This is indeed a worthy project and deserves our utmost cooperation.

Flash! Didn't GHS look classy, while "all dolled up" to have their pictures made?

HIGH SCHOOL PICTURES MAINE

Upon a casual glance at the High School student body Friday, one would have thought it was the Easter Parade. The boys, much as they hated to have been admonished by Miss Turner to wear ties and coats. The girls, which was very unusual, looked their school-day best. The reason for all this finery was the great event of having our "pictures took." The photographer was here Friday morn'g, and each student, individually, "watched the little birdie." The results of all this photographic effort will appear in the annual, at some future date.—J. M. D.

MID-TERM

The end of the first semester has been reached—to the joy of some and the sorrow of others. The first lap of this school year has been completed, each one of us is wondering, "Have I done my best?"

Mid-term exams were held January 11-13, and a "hectic time was had by all." But as usual, the exams were not nearly so bad as we had expected. All in all, high school has made a good showing for this first semester let us strive to do even better the next.

Those on the Honor Roll for this six weeks are:

Ninth Grade, Joe Talbert, Helen Dubard, Mary Jane Perry.
Tenth Grade, Mary Dornick.
Eleventh Grade, Larry Noble.
Twelfth Grade, Ralph Blaylock, Benjie Moore, Lucy Moss, Winifred Sanders.

Average of 90 for this six weeks:

Ninth Grade, Gerre Gwin, Mary Ellen Moss.
Tenth Grade, Guy Robinson, Mary Jo Austin, Jan Williams, Willie Campbell.

Eleventh Grade, Margaret Green, Catherine Herring.

Twelfth Grade, Jay Gore, Estelle Bailey, Chas. J. Jargurite Stanley, Maxine Tilghman, Elvone Colvin.

CAFETERIA AT STATION HOSPITAL

One need only visit the cafeteria in the Station Hospital, Camp McCain, Mississippi, to be aware of the meticulous attention to detail that is being exercised by Colonel Daniel C. Campbell, Camp Sergeant.

Food is prepared in a most inviting and palatable fashion, under the scrutiny of experienced and well trained dietitians, who have selected an individual plate and dish service on a help-yourself plan.

The room selected for the cafeteria now operating is located in a building affording a maximum of cheerfulness that adds a touch of home atmosphere.

Colonel Campbell evidences the trait of a master in the handling of details and impresses one with the calm, cool, deliberate manner, by which he commands this huge institution. Always time for a cheerful smile and the passing of a personal pleasantry to soldier and officer alike.

In the short time that the Station Hospital has been activated, an efficient coordinated chain of medical service has been rendered, which is an outstanding accomplishment made possible through long hours of work and study by the Surgeon and his Staff.
